

I oppose the proposal to increase minimum requirements for pilots who who offer charity flights. This would impact me directly as I will shortly meet the current requirements and was planning to auction off flights at my church's annual Mexico mission trip auction fundraiser. Like so many others, this mission trip is a great cause that needs all the financial support it can get. My church and I shouldn't have to jump through so many hoops that we end up deciding not to auction off flights. Please withdraw this proposal. Thanks.
